

Welcome to Meru University

For assistance please contact us at: staff@meruuniversity.org

This tutorial provides instructions for registering for upcoming live courses, registering for on demand courses, and accessing on demand courses taken in the past.

I. To Register for an Upcoming Live Course

1. Log in to the website (upper right hand corner)

- If you have not taken a Meru University course in the past, create a new account. If you already have an account on The Hearts Center’s main website (but have not taken a Meru University course) it’s a good idea to use the same username and password for meruuniversity.org. Write down your username and password and keep them in a safe place.
- If you have taken Meru University courses in the past, enter the username and password that you use for The Hearts Center’s main website – exactly the same one. Please do not create a new username and password because all of the courses you have taken in the past and those you will take in the future will be stored for your future access through this identification.
- If you forget your password, you may “Request new password”
